

Soil and Water Conservation Society All Ohio Chapter Awards for OUTSTANDING PUBLICATIONS in 2006

The Soil and Water Conservation Society announces the following outstanding publication awards for 2005. We had 10 total submissions for all awards in 2006. All of the submissions represent excellent examples of scientific research, educational materials, and general information.

Dan Kush Award for Excellence in and Educational Publication:
West Creek Preservation Committee.

DVD: *West Creek Urban Wetlands – From Trash to Treasure.

This DVD wins the 2006 Dan Kush Award for excellence in educational material. The DVD chronicles the efforts and accomplishments of the West Creek Preservation Committee's efforts to convert a former waste dump in Parma, Ohio into the West Creek Nature Preserve and Wetlands. The DVD was developed and edited entirely by volunteers, and outlines the efforts of the local community to enhance their environment, as well as the environment of Ohio. Congratulations to the West Creek Preservation Committee for a job well done on the wetland, and an excellent educational resource for all of us.
